Clark Gibson + Orchestra: The Lost Arrangements of Bird with Strings is comprised of 14 orchestrated works originally intended for the master of bebop, Charlie Parker. Written in the early 1950s, two of these pieces were never recorded and some were never performed. The Clark Gibson studio orchestra brings these pieces back to life celebrating the life and music of Charlie Parker.

Live performances at jazz festivals and universities are always an audience favorite. The project presents a uniquely wonderful, collaborative listening and performing experience.
